

April 2011 Update: Agency-guaranteed Mortgage-backed Securities Portfolio

U.S. Department of the Treasury

U.S. Treasury Agency-guaranteed MBS Portfolio

Agency-guaranteed MBS Portfolio	Proceeds from Sales by Treasury	Principal and Interest Payments	Total Taxpayer Recoveries
Cumulative through Mar. 2011	$3.8 billion	$104.0 billion	$107.8 billion
Apr. 2011 Results	$10.3 billion	$2.8 billion	$13.1 billion
Cumulative through Apr. 2011	$14.1 billion	$106.8 billion	$120.9 billion

- In 2008 and 2009, Treasury purchased a total of $225 billion in agency-guaranteed mortgage-backed securities (MBS) under authority provided to it through the Housing and Economic Recovery Act of 2008. Note: the peak portfolio size was $192 billion in December 2009. While Treasury did not begin to sell its MBS holdings until March 2011, principal repayments have occurred over the life of the portfolio.
- During the month of April 2011, taxpayers received total proceeds of $13.1 billion from Treasury's MBS portfolio through sales by Treasury ($10.3 billion) and principal and interest payments ($2.8 billion).
- Through the end of April 2011, taxpayers have received cumulative total proceeds of $120.9 billion from Treasury's MBS portfolio.
- On March 21, Treasury announced that it was commencing the orderly wind down of its MBS portfolio by authorizing the sale of up to $10 billion in MBS (principal) per month, subject to market conditions.
- Based on current market conditions, Treasury expects to make a profit for taxpayers on its MBS portfolio.

Principal Outstanding at Close of Month

Through the end of April 2011, the remaining amount of principal outstanding in Treasury's MBS portfolio is approximately $118 billion, down 39 percent from a peak of $192 billion in December 2009. While Treasury did not begin to sell its MBS holdings until March 2011, principal repayments have occurred over the life of the portfolio. (Note: Taxpayers may ultimately receive proceeds in excess of principal through interest payments and sales above face value.)
